The Saint Paul Press.

SAINT PAUL, FRIDAY, MARCH 11.

This paper has a larger Daily, Tri-Weekly and Weekly circulation than any other in Minnesota, and therefore presents inducements to advertisers which they will not find elsewhere.

The heavy snow storm interferes with lightning, and our telegraphic report this morning is consequently brief.

KEY NOTE FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL CAMPAIGN.

The Richmond Enquirer begins an article upon the Presidential canvass in the North with the following paragraph:

The people of the Confederate States cannot be indifferent to the approaching Presidential canvass in the United States. That canvass will be more important in its ultimate bearing upon the present war than the military campaign of the coming spring and summer.

The people of the North will please note the significant confession expressed in the three lines above italicized, and govern themselves accordingly. A Union victory at the polls next fall, which will ensure the continuance of the Administration war policy, will, by the frank admission of the rebels themselves, be more fatal to the rebel cause than any successful campaign against the rebel army in the field. In other words a victory over the Copperheads will strike nearer the vitals of the rebellion than a victory over the rebels themselves.

That is the rebel estimate of the importance of the Presidential campaign of 1864.

We may thank our rebel Mentor, then, for giving us the key note of the campaign. That key note will be, "Strike the rebels through the Copperheads."

The death of the Democratic party is the death of the rebellion."

Already shouts of victory echo back that war-cries among the granite hills of New Hampshire.

And how, we would like to ask the Richmond Enquirer, does it like the news from New Hampshire "in its ultimate bearing upon the present war?"

More news of the same sort is coming soon from Connecticut, and by and by, when the whole circle of loyal States from sunrise to sunset, shall take up the exultant battle-cries of freedom in chorus with the victorious armies of the Union, and in one last triumphant onset of the free millions of the North and the enfranchised millions of the South, life Abraham Lincoln with one hand to the Presidential Chair, and with the other "hang Jeff Davis on a sour apple tree," what will the Richmond Enquirer say then to the Presidential canvass "in its ultimate bearing upon the present war?"

ASSASSIN SCOUTS.

We understand that efforts are being made to procure the release of some 200 of the condemned Sioux Indians at Rock Island with a view to their existing in the service of the United States as scouts in General Thomas' army. One of the well known Campbell family of half breeds, who has been in the scouting service for General Thomas, has been sent to Davenport with this object, and a strenuous effort has been, and is probably now being made to procure the consent of the President to this employment of the imprisoned Sioux convicts. The scheme is certainly an ingenious one, and would certainly be a handsome recognition by the Government of the military talents of these distinguished guerrillas.

For have they not shown themselves of approved skill at ambuscade; keen on a scent for blood; adroit at assassination; surpassingly cunning in the slaughter of women and children?

We do not know that we rightly apprehend the duties of a scout, or the nature of the mysterious services he is expected to perform.

But if the Government wants the women on the route of our armies gallantly outraged and intrepidly murdered, infants cunningly tracked to their nurseries and brains brutally dashed out against the door posts, if it wants the people in and out of our military lines consigned to a swift and wholesale massacre, if it wants murder to revel in every fantastic and ghastly scene of mutilation in the front and rear of our armies and to mock the agonies of death with every cunning and fiendish device of torture, and if it is careless the while whether it is upon rebel or loyal Union families these versatile talents of the Dakota warriors are exercised, then we would by all means recommend it to take these amiable and excellent gentlemen into the scouting service of the United States, as the most fitting instruments they can choose for any damnable work of villainy at which white men revolt with horror.

A thousand graves in Minnesota testify to their accomplishments in just such service as this. Their hands reek with the bloody testimonial of their efficiency in indiscriminate butchery and pillage, and the records of the military commission in the hands of the President, show that no secret of infernal malignity is unknown to them. But if the Government does not want them for some such hideous work of massacre, as has made the western counties of Minnesota the Aeldams of the Sioux and the Golgotha of the white settlers—then we protest against the outrage upon our common humanity and civilization, against the insult to our brave and noble soldiery, against the desecration of the Union cause, which would be implied in putting these accursed assassins in front of our armies except to be impaled upon the

THE WHITE REFUGEES AT CAIRO.

The Cairo Relief Association have issued an eloquent appeal on behalf of the white refugees from the South, who are sent there by the military authorities, homeless, houseless, penniless, stripped of everything by rebel tyranny, or the havoc of war.

The following is "a sketch of their condition in the South."

The reign of terror which exists throughout all the rebel States lying in or adjacent to the Mississippi Valley, has been the most barbarous annals of our country.

Their crops have been destroyed; their lands laid waste; their cattle driven off; their granaries robbed; their cotton bolls, and indeed, all their property, have been stripped of their clothing, and turned naked upon the world.

Men, deserting from a service they hated, have been caught and made to "dance wild on the wind" for the sake of a few dollars.

Children, intermingled, have been shot. Mothers, imploring mercy, have had their infants stabbed on their breasts.

Sympathy with the Union cause has been made the sole occasion for atrocities unheard of in intestine war.

The rich and poor alike are prostrate, smitten and suppliant from the effects which are overtaking their dwellings.

Children, intermingled, have been shot. Mothers, imploring mercy, have had their infants stabbed on their breasts.

Sympathy with the Union cause has been made the sole occasion for atrocities unheard of in intestine war.

Reply to Legislative Memorials.

POST OFFICE DEPARTMENT, CONTRACT 7 OFFICE, Washington March 11, 1864.

Sir:—The memorial of the Legislature of Minnesota, for an increase of mail service in that part of route W. 13,615, between Rochester and Mower City, from once a week to tri-weekly, and its extension by Lansing to Austin, with your letter accompanying it has been received.

In reply I have to state that, in view of business done at the several offices on the route as proposed to be extended, and of the supply already afforded most them by service on the other routes, as well as of the probable cost to the Department of the increased service desired, the alleged necessity for tri-weekly service from Rochester as proposed by the memorialists, does not appear.

Mower City, Lansing and Austin have now three times a week service on the route from Preston to Austin and Lansing and Mower City, and the extension by Lansing to Mitchell, like best.

Their crops have been destroyed; their lands laid waste; their cattle driven off; their granaries robbed; their cotton bolls, and indeed, all their property, have been stripped of their clothing, and turned naked upon the world.

Men, deserting from a service they hated, have been caught and made to "dance wild on the wind" for the sake of a few dollars.

Who is Responsible for the Florida Disaster.

THE PRESIDENT'S EXPLANATION.

Correspondence of the Cincinnati Commercial.

WASHINGTON, March 2, 1864.—The unexpected intelligence of a serious disaster to our arms in Florida will, no doubt, revive the all but spent energies of denunciation of the Administration on the part of the faithful laborers in the cause of peace and conservatism, on the score of General Gilmore's expedition.

Such manifestly untrue charges, however, which have been made, are not only unwarranted, but they are also unwelcome.

The Florida disaster is a serious one, and it is not to be denied that it is a serious one. It is a serious one, and it is not to be denied that it is a serious one.

MINNEAPOLIS.

A Glance of her Manufactures—Their Influence on her Future Growth.

No. 2.—MANUFACTURES OF WOOD.

In our first article we briefly reviewed the large and valuable lumber trade of Minneapolis. As auxiliary thereto, there are numerous manufactures of wooden ware, furniture, door, sash and blind works, etc., that employ considerable capital, and are of great present and prospective value. We will first enter into a brief notice of the extensive Paul factories in the west, and perhaps the only one in the North West. It was established in a limited way early in 1857, by Messrs. Gilpatrick & Bassett, who succeeded in their first experiments in such a manner, that they were encouraged to add capital and machinery to the business. (Mr. Gilpatrick, we believe, was the pioneer in the enterprise, and still conducts the mechanical department.)

At the State Fair that fall they exhibited some excellent cedar and common pauls and tubs that took a high premium. From this time they had orders from every portion of the State, and soon had a large factory in thriving operation, which furnished the necessities of the country, and was the source of the row of mills. They have since grown into a very important branch of the manufactures of Minneapolis.

Their saw mill, where the pine logs are cut up into pieces and blocks of proper size for staves and bottoms, is in the outer end of the row of mills. They here operate one gang of saws and one double circular saw. The logs are first cut into blocks, after which by a "barrel saw," they are cut in the concave shape required to form the circular shape of a bucket, tub or drum. The process of cutting a pine log into a bucket or tub is very interesting, and we will briefly trace it.

The staves and bottoms are next taken into the finishing department, a building on the edge of the ledge of rock, where the power is obtained in the lower story. Here the staves and bottoms are put together. A workman has a number of grooved staves in a pile before him, he takes up, and almost with lightning rapidity "sets up" a bucket inside of a frame. He then claps it on a mallet, turns off the outside, and papers it smooth, and claps on a hoop, which is furnished by other men. A pile soon accumulates, when they are sent into the room above, where another workman has been getting out a number of bottoms by a process much similar to that in another way. A third workman fits the two together, drives on two or three strong hoops, as the case may be, while a fourth man lathes off the inside smoothly, and packs them into staves. They are then a bucket, tight and strong, excepting the bale and the paint, which will make them marketable. These are put on in a building on shore to guard against accidents by fire.

Tubs and churns, and half bushel measure are all made in much the same manner. The workmen are paid so much per hundred, and a dextrous hand will make good time. The number of men employed is from 12 to 14 in the busiest season. This number of men will turn out 350 buckets, 160 tubs, and from 50 to 100 churns or measures, per day. There is a good demand for churns, as the house wives of Minnesota send out their tubs, as some writer expresses it, and prefer the old barrel home to do with.

There is also quite an inquiry for cedar pauls, on account of their neatness and durability. Mr. Bassett is getting out a quantity of fine cedar stuff for this season's work. One of these pauls bought in 1857, has been in use in the writer's household ever since, and is as sound as when new. They "last forever," as the old fellow said about cedar pauls, declaring that he had "tried it, and knew it."

The buckets and tubs made by Bassett & Co. not only supply the entire consumption in Minnesota, but are largely exported from the State to river towns in Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, &c. During the year 1863 there were received at this point per the St. P. & F. R. R. 5,972 tubs, 41,892 buckets, 1,023 churns and measures. A year or two more will see our pauls and tubs marketed with profit in Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Louis. There is an immense demand in the State for buckets by sugar makers.

We will further glance at the manufactures of Minneapolis in another article.

MORE REFORM.—A

A certified copy of a claim made against the county of Ramsey by M. Cummings, Chief of Police, for $30.50, has been shown us. We have the authority of Messrs. John Pendergast and Patterson for saying that of seven arrests specified in the bill, and for which fees were allowed by the County Board, at least three are purely fictitious, being no cases at all, and of other cases certain items are quite constructive. If this is so, the County Board should investigate the matter.

THE HEATHENISH PERSECUTIONS OF

no groes has not yet died out among some classes. On Fort Street a night or two since, a couple of gentlemen from the "Gim of the City" assaulted a pair of negroes by pushing them from the sidewalk, and great shouting that the latter had no right there at all. A passage at arms ensued in which the low assaults were properly rebuffed for their lawlessness.

THE CHIPPEWA DELEGATION.—The balance of the Chippewa Delegation leave this morning for La Crosse on the stage. Most of them were provided with good clothes yesterday, and look quite well. These untutored children of the forest will have great stories to tell their descendants about the wonders of the pale faces cities and railroads when they return.

THE WEATHER AND ROADS.—The

spew of Wednesday thawed rapidly yesterday, leaving the roads in a bad state. The walking in the city is very bad, as the sidewalks are covered with slush an inch deep, and the gutters are full of it.

The snow extended north as far as

St. Cloud, and west to St. Peter.

LUNCH.—Six huge turkeys will be served up at Hall's today for lunch from 11 till 2 o'clock.

RIVER NEWS.

The ice at St. Paul moves.—The river reported clear from Reed's Landing to Winona—a rise expected.—Departure of Steamboats.

THE STAGE OF WATER.—The river is on a stand, with four feet in the channel above low-water mark of first summer. The ice from Reed's to Winona—a private telegram from Reed's Landing, dated 6 o'clock P. M., last evening, conveys the welcome intelligence that the Mississippi is open from the foot of the Lake to Winona, and a boat will leave Reed's Landing for the latter port this morning.

Also that "The ice at La Crosse was too rotten for foot passengers" which is a sign that it may depart at any minute. It is probable that boats will be running to Lake Pepin by Sunday.

THE ICE MOVES AGAIN.—The ice made a start yesterday in front of the city, and moved down about 50 feet. It will not remain long, however, and doubtless to-morrow will see most of the river clear.

PERSONAL.—Alden Bryant, J. V. Webster, and West, and also Leopold, all of them well known steamboatmen, left on yesterday's stage to La Crosse. We will see the "gay and happy" crowd all back here in a few days, on their respective cars.

THE SNOW STORM OF Tuesday and Wednesday extended over most of the State. We will have a rise in the river in a few days, sure.

Monetary & Commercial.

Daily Review of St. Paul Markets. FRIDAY, MARCH 11, 1864.

The bad roads for the day or two have not off receipts from the country, and the prices for produce are consequently very firm. No actual change has taken place, however.

A DENIAL.—The Chief of Police inquires our statement in reference to his charging the county fees for services not performed, and gives it an emphatic denial. The fee bill was approved, item by item, by Mr. Horn, the county Attorney, and as further proof of his assertion, refers to the docket of the Police Court. We would not have made the charge we did, if it had not been given to us by persons of perfect reliability and honor, viz., John Pendergast and John Patterson.

A BAD SPECULATION.—A gentleman of our city shipped a lot of venison to Milwaukee, a few weeks since. It arrived safe, but not until after the day which the Wisconsin Game law fixes as the limit for the sale of venison, so the whole lot was confiscated and lost.

BY REFERENCE to our advertising columns, it will be seen that the Emigrant Aid Society, have made arrangements for a grand supper on the evening of the 17th of March, St. Patrick's day. The supper will be served under the direction of Mr. Schiller. The Grand Western Band will be on hand to disperse sweet and patriotic music.

THE SECOND REGIMENT.—The La Crosse Republican of March 9th says: The Minnesota Second regiment arrived in La Crosse last evening, and the remainder will arrive to-night from St. Paul, en route to Chattanooga.

No. 2.—Six huge turkeys will be served at Jo Hall's today for lunch from 11 till 2 o'clock.

Dr. Stewart is city and county Physician for the present month.

PERSONAL.—C. D. Gilliland leaves this morning for Washington on official business.

MINNESOTA LANDS are growing in public favor. We are advised that numerous entries are being made at all the Land Office in the State. 40's, 50's, 120's and 160's may be purchased of Thompson Bros.

PHOTOGRAPHIES, PHOTOGRAPHY.—Mrs. J. E. SPRAGUE takes pleasure in informing the public that she has thoroughly renovated and refitted her Photograph gallery, and having secured the services of a skillful Artist from the East—Photographer of long and thorough experience—she has no hesitation in warranting complete satisfaction in promptness and skillfulness that she can compete.

A variety of Albums and Fancy Boxes constantly on hand.

Recollect her rooms are over Lygo's, on Third street, at the old stand of Hill & Kelly.

RECOLLECT.—C. E. Frost & Co.'s Grocery and Provision Store is a place to see your money. Potatoes retail at 35 cents, Corn at 12 1/2, Oats at 85, and everything else in our line cheap for cash, on Washburn street, near the Bridge.

I WOULD hereby give notice to all concerned that the Minnesota Veteran Volunteers is still in the field for recruits. The regiment having gone South, a detail of two (2) officers and eight (8) Sergeants has been left behind on recruiting duty.

The Sergeants will soon be found in various parts of the State. T. G. Scott will be stationed at Rochester, Minn., and the undersigned, in charge of the party, will remain at this place. Office adjoining the office of Capt. Keith, Provost Marshal.

RIVER NEWS.

The ice still fast—No news from below the Lake—More Steamboat-men leaving for below.

THE STAGE OF WATER.—The river is on a stand, with four feet in the channel above low-water mark of last summer.

THE RIVER HERE.—The ice still remains jammed in above the bridge, and though very rotten apparently, yet refuses to clear out.

THE RIVER BELOW THE LAKE.—We are without any telegraphic advice as to the state of the river below the Lake. The news that a boat has arrived at the foot of the Lake from La Crosse may be expected at any time, however.

PERSONAL.—Captain Abbot Hutchinson, leaves for La Crosse in the stage this morning, and Capt. Sennebox on Sunday morning, to take command of their respective Regiments.

A Card from Gen. Gibbon. The Bulletin publishes the following: To the Editors of the Evening Bulletin.

There is no truth in the statement recently published in the New York Tribune, that one of the corps commanders at the battle of Gettysburg had in his pocket on the 23d of July order from Gen. Meade directing the army to retreat.

Very Respectfully, JOHN GIBBON, Brigadier General Volunteers.

MINNEAPOLIS.

A Glance at her Manufactures—Their Influence on her Future Growth.

No. 3.—PLANNING AND TURNING WORKS—FLOURING TRADE, ETC.

J. G. Smith's Factory.—On the lower side of the river is the Planning, 100,000 and Sash Factory of J. G. Smith. This is a thriving branch of business, and when building is busy, turns out a great deal of work. The past season the scarcity of dimensions of stuff for builders has diminished the trade, however, and only five men are now employed. Their machinery can plane between five and six thousand feet per day, and every appliance is at hand for making sash, blinds, &c.

Wood Case's "City Mills."—The upper story of this factory is Wolcott's wool carding room, the machinery of which is run by the same water power as Mr. Smith's works. We could not find Mr. Wolcott to obtain any statistics of his business.

The City Mills.—On the bank below the dam, near the "old government mill," is the "City Mills" building, in which is H. S. Howe's turning shop. This has been in operation about four years. All kinds of turning, fancy sawing and similar work are done to order, but the saws and lathes are mostly employed on lead beads and chains now. Mr. Howe can turn out 100 lead beads and the same number of chains per week. We noticed some very pretty cedar bead studs just completed, which find a ready home market.

There are three flouring mills at the Falls, all of which are in active operation.

The Cataract Mill.—This was built in 1850, by Eastman & Gibson, and is a fine four story structure of stone. It is situated on the bank, and has four "runs" of stones, which, running on full time will grind 200 barrels per day. They make a fine and much sought for brand of flour.

The Union Mill.—This mill, which is started between the above and the dam, was built by Henry Gibson in the fall of 1863. It is a solid stone building, and operates three runs of stone, one on coarse grain, and can turn out 100 barrels of flour per day. The mill has power enough for two runs more, which will be added next season.

Perkins, Crocker & Co.—The mill of this firm is the "City Mills" building. It operates two runs of stone, which have a capacity of 70 barrels of flour per day, mostly employed on custom work.

A powerful stationary fire engine, worked by a water wheel, and by means of large hose is used to flood any mill in the group in situated in their midst. It cost $3000, but has already saved fifty times its cost, in drowning out incipient fires that would have swept the whole row of buildings off. The entire value of the buildings, machinery, &c., of these eleven houses cannot be less than $500,000.

Eastman & Gibson are quarrying building stone for a new factory, but of what nature no one knows but themselves. The Yankees thereabouts "guess," however, that it is for a soda factory, which will be a valuable and profitable branch of business.

We have thus briefly glanced at the factories grouped about the falls, comprising eleven firms engaged in various branches of manufacturing—a commencement of the large interests which must ere long center here. With cheap water power sufficient for a hundred factories, cheap lumber, cheap living for laborers, and a good home market for all fabrics produced, a few very years will see the Minneapolis shore of the falls a cluster of mills and factories, increasing the present wealth, business and population of that city tenfold.

Proclamation by the Governor.

To the People of Minnesota.

The deficiency in the quota of the State is less than fourteen hundred men, the liberal Government bounties have been extended to the first of April next, and one more united effort will supply that number and maintain the reputation of Minnesota.

It is due to the old organizations that their ranks should be filled; and until that end be accomplished, an attempt to enlist a new regiment would seem inappropriate. I therefore respectfully invoke the patriotism of the State to place beside the veterans of Minnesota, this further contribution of fourteen hundred men to the great cause of the Union.

While the old regiments have equal claims upon our sympathies and all should be promptly strengthened, I may say that, if the First Regiment Minnesota Volunteers, shall be filled to its minimum or thereabouts, by the first of April, I have the assurance of Brig. Gen. Sibley, commanding the District, that he will make the necessary application with myself to have it placed upon the frontier in line of the gallant Sixth, the officers and men of which desire a Southern campaign. I have not a doubt that such an application to the War Department will be successful.

Let it be remembered that by the blessings of Providence the present will be the closing year of the war—that an early decision in favor of the liberal bounties paid by the Government, and that if we fall in this holy duty, the draft must follow.

I recently said to a large audience that through your partiality, I was Governor of the bravest and noblest women on earth, and I now appeal to my fellow soldiers of the Minnesota First, to the towns deficient in their quotas, and to the citizens generally to aid me in saving our noble State from the stigma of a compulsory draft.

To those who shall more immediately respond to this appeal, I have only to say that, living, fighting and dying for their country, and for the cause of the Union, they will illustrate the truth of the declaration, that—

"The fittest place for man to die, where he dies for man."

The Arrest of Minnesota Soldiers in Missouri.

Report of the Secretary of War.

From the Washington Chronicle.

The Secretary of War has sent a voluminous report to Congress, touching the alleged arrest, confinement and punishment of Minnesota soldiers for releasing slaves of rebels, and for "buzzing for Jim Lane," and that "citizens are punished for being unconditionally Union men, and too loyal to suit the military commander of Missouri." Upon these charges made in the Senate of the United States, General Brown demanded a court of inquiry in relation to this matter, and generally in respect to military administration in his district, which demand General Rosecrans forwards and disapproves. The latter adds that "the interest of the service did not require further steps to be taken in the matter. General Brown makes the following statement, in the case:—A loyal citizen of Pettis county, Missouri, by the name of Charles W. C. Walker, received a telegram, as reported by Captain Pritchard, to move to St. Louis a family of slaves. The taking them from the case (under the impression that an act of injustice was being done) by the members of the 9th Minnesota volunteers, is set forth in the reports of Captain Queen and Pritchard. Upon receipt of the reports referred to, I ordered the parties arrested, and sent to this post. They were furnished quarters at an unoccupied hotel, and kept in a nominal, not real, confinement. For army rations were drawn for them, and, after investigating the case, they were discharged and returned to duty.

The investigation was from verbal reports of officers of the regiment to me direct, and shows that no orders were issued by the commanding officer of the detachment to release the slaves; that Captain Queen and Pritchard were in uniform; that the men were misled by the story of a negro, to the effect that the master of the slaves were in the rebel army, and that, when the men were formed in line, all the parties who were engaged in the release of the slaves stepped to the front; that the men were good soldiers, and had cheerfully performed their duty and obeyed all orders, except in this case, and that they acknowledged the fault they had committed, believing that the punishment they had received would prevent future offenses of this character; and, as the case had been referred to the Secretary of War, I ordered them to return with their regiment, and discharged them from arrest to await his decision.

Mr. Stanton, in his letter, accompanying a document to the Senate on the subject, says: "I concur in the opinion of Major General Rosecrans."

Laws of Minnesota.

AN ACT to amend Section one, of Chapter thirty-five of the Compiled Statutes, relating to the partition of real property.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Minnesota:

SECTION 1. That section one (1) of chapter thirty-five (35) of the Compiled Statutes relating to the partition of real property, be amended so as to read as follows:

When two or more persons are interested in real property as joint tenants, or as tenants in common, or in any other manner, and one of them is deceased, or one of them is an infant, or one of them is an idiot, or one of them is an alien, or one of them is a non-resident, or one of them is a person of unsound mind, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged bankrupt, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged insane, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a lunatic, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a pauper, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a vagrant, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a felon, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a convict, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a criminal, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a delinquent, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a vagrant, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a felon, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a convict, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a criminal, or one of them is a person who has been adjudged a delinquent, or one of them is a person who has THE DRAFT.

Minnesota in Account with the United States, Debtor.

Towns not to be Drafted for their Full Deficiency.

We gave yesterday morning the quotas, credits, and deficiencies, in the Second Congressional District, as furnished by the Adjutant General, and this morning publish the same for the First District.

We are informed by Lieut. Colonel Averill, Provost Marshal General of the State, that the quotas as prepared by the Adjutant will not be used in making the draft, but from the other data furnished the Boards of Enrollment will proceed to establish the quotas. It is not expected that there will be any material difference except where there have been changes in the enrollment. The Boards of Enrollment are instructed to proceed immediately to perform this work, making calculations on the number that enlisted previous to March 1st.

We present below a statement showing Minnesota's debtor and credit account with the United States, from the commencement of the war:

| 1st District. | 2d District. | Total. |
|--|--------------|--------|
| Enrollment of 1862, including volunteers, 21,583 | 29,700 | 51,283 |
| Quotas for 1861 and 1862, 4,200 | 4,050 | 8,250 |
| Enrollment of 1863, both classes, 17,188 | 16,701 | 33,889 |
| Quota for the first half of 1863, 2,110 | 2,051 | 4,161 |
| Quota for the call of 1864, 3,874 | 2,288 | 6,162 |
| Total quotas, 23,612 | 8,389 | 32,001 |
| Number men furnished, 7,431 | 7,495 | 14,926 |
| Still to be furnished, 12,443 | | |

As a large number of towns have furnished a considerable excess, it is obvious that if the towns which are deficient should be called upon for the full number the State would furnish more than 2,117 men, the number required. The townships exceed stand—

|----------------------|
| First District, 783 |
| Second District, 644 |

These excesses are to be distributed among the towns deficient, in proportion to the deficiencies, and then only a sufficient number will be drafted to fill the quota of the State. This plan will not work to the detriment of the towns which have furnished an excess, as their excess will be called upon for what they fail to furnish now, besides their additional proportion under a new call.

Taking the excesses given above, as the basis, it has been ascertained that thirty-eight per cent in the First District, and forty-two in the Second, deficiency, as given in the Adjutant General's statement, will leave a sufficient balance to fill the State quota. Any town can readily ascertain how many men will be required by subtracting thirty-eight or forty-two per cent in which it is located, from the number which it is now deficient.

Because the deficient towns obtained temporary relief from the patriotism of their neighbors, it will not be advisable for them to relax any effort to fill their entire quota, as another call, which is already foreseen, would place them upon their own resources, and they would then be required to atone for past neglect.

THE FLORIDA AFFAIR.

The Washington Republican adds the following statement to the explanations which have been given of the responsibility for the Florida expedition and its disastrous result. If the Copperheads can make anything out of it they are welcome to it:

We can positively state from official information that the recent campaign into Florida was initiated, guided and controlled by General Gilmore himself, upon consultation with certain naval officers, who joined the General in obtaining the President's consent to the expedition. General Gilmore will not hesitate to confirm this statement. The responsibility of the defeat at Olustee rests entirely upon the shoulders of the General, who commanded our forces at that battle. In the true sense of the word, the responsibility is with General Gilmore, who will not shrink from assuming it.

Much stress has been laid upon the fact that Mr. John Hay, Assistant Private Secretary of the President, was commissioned a Major and sent to Florida. That matter is easily explained. It was not until after the President gave his consent that General Gilmore, in co-operation with a naval force, should undertake the expedition, that the idea of sending Mr. Hay to report to General Gilmore was thought of. Mr. Hay, desiring more active life, made a personal application to the President to go with the expedition, and the latter consented, reporting to General Gilmore, who subsequently informed the President, officially, that he had ordered Major Hay to go to Florida to superintend certain civil and military duties under the Amnesty Proclamation.

LITTLE SIX and Medicine Bottle, the infamous Sioux Chiefs, are now in close confinement at Fort Abercrombie. Major Brown has also brought down to this post 290 Sioux from Little Crow's band—twenty-one men and the remainder women and children. They are the Indians that came to Major Hatch's camp during the winter.

A COLLISION occurred on the Nashville and Chattanooga road, at Anderson, last Saturday, by which five persons were killed, and among them George Thieriot of the Second Minnesota.

W. W. WATERS has been confirmed as Postmaster at St. Anthony.

THE ST. PAUL AND SUPERIOR RAILROAD LAND GRANT.

The following dispatch was received yesterday:

WASHINGTON, March 11. PARKER PAISE: Our Bill passed the Senate to-day.

WASHINGTON, March 11. W. P. MURRAY: "Our Bill" it may be necessary to amend it, but not the famous Bill who signs the above dispatch, but the Bill for a grant of lands to aid in the construction of the St. Paul and Superior Railroad.

It is very remarkable that the chief, and indeed the only effective opposition to the passage of this bill has had its source in St. Paul.

The same men who instigated the opposition to the passage of the bonus ordinance in aid of this road through the city council have since been secretly but industriously plying every agency at their command to defeat the bill in Congress. We refrain from mentioning any names, but as we understand that Hon. H. M. Rice is about to proceed to the city of Washington, we may take the opportunity to say that we trust that the efforts of the Hon. Ex-Senator may be used to circumvent the conspirators who are thus plotting against the interests of this city and this State, to promote the schemes of Wisconsin speculators. Talking of the opposition to the bill in the Senate it is a somewhat curious coincidence that the chief instrument through which the St. Paul opposition to this bill made itself felt was Senator Hendricks, of Missouri, a member of the Committee on Public Lands, to which the bill was referred, and who is largely interested in Bayfield. The opposition of the two Senators from Wisconsin was of course expected.

We anticipate the speedy passage of the measure through the House, where it will probably encounter less opposition than it met with in the Senate.

THE FOURTH REGIMENT AT LA CROSSE.

Adjutant General Malmros yesterday evening received the following dispatch:

LA CROSSE, March 12. To General Malmros: The Fourth Minnesota, 260 strong, is here. The Agent says he cannot send us on. What shall we do?

J. C. EDSON, Maj. Com'd.

The dispatch came at the same time with another from Chicago, announcing their arrival there, but owing to the line having been down, the notice was not received in time to make preparations for their transportation. Adjutant General Malmros at once replied as follows:

ST. PAUL, March 12. Major J. C. Edson: The Quartermaster Department promises to provide transportation at once.

OSCAR MALMROS, Adj. Gen.

Owing to the delay mentioned, however, it is not probable that the Fourth can arrive before Wednesday or Thursday.

SUPERIOR AND ST. PAUL.

The Lake Superior Gazette claims that, naturally, commercially and socially, Superior is a Minnesota town. Most all the trade of this place in cattle and produce is with Minnesota, all our eastern and southern mail facilities are through St. Paul, and it is to Minnesota and the country west that we must look all time long, as the country tributary to this point.

The Gazette further says that, should the trade of the Lake Superior region be once secured to this State upon its own road, there will be little encouragement for the stockholders of the Wisconsin road.

The Gazette will be gratified to learn from to-day's Press, that the favorite scheme of its editor, Mr. Thomas Clark, for a direct connection between St. Paul and Superior, a scheme which he and we have industriously advocated for years, is in a fair way and energy can accomplish it, and it will be accomplished.

LARGE UNION GAINS IN NEW YORK.

The New York Tribune sums up the result of the county and town elections in that State as far as heard from on the 7th inst:

We have complete returns from thirty counties of that State, showing 370 Union supporters elected to 201 Democrats. In Oneida, from which we have only partial returns, we are reported to have gained eight towns and in Sullivan four. As compared with last year our returns show a Union gain of 59 towns, and a loss of 63, making our net gain thus far 63. Incomplete returns from our counties show corresponding Union gains. Where are those "wonderful victories" in the Empire State over which the Copperheads were so largely crowing?

THE DRAFT.

Minnesota in Account with the United States, Debtor.

Towns not to be Drafted for their Full Deficiency.

We gave yesterday morning the quotas, credits, and deficiencies, in the Second Congressional District, as furnished by the Adjutant General, and this morning publish the same for the First District.

We are informed by Lieut. Colonel Averill, Provost Marshal General of the State, that the quotas as prepared by the Adjutant will not be used in making the draft, but from the other data furnished the Boards of Enrollment will proceed to establish the quotas. It is not expected that there will be any material difference except where there have been changes in the enrollment. The Boards of Enrollment are instructed to proceed immediately to perform this work, making calculations on the number that enlisted previous to March 1st.

We present below a statement showing Minnesota's debtor and credit account with the United States, from the commencement of the war:

| 1st District. | 2d District. | Total. |
|--|--------------|--------|
| Enrollment of 1862, including volunteers, 21,583 | 29,700 | 51,283 |
| Quotas for 1861 and 1862, 4,200 | 4,050 | 8,250 |
| Enrollment of 1863, both classes, 17,188 | 16,701 | 33,889 |
| Quota for the first half of 1863, 2,110 | 2,051 | 4,161 |
| Quota for the call of 1864, 3,874 | 2,288 | 6,162 |
| Total quotas, 23,612 | 8,389 | 32,001 |
| Number men furnished, 7,431 | 7,495 | 14,926 |
| Still to be furnished, 12,443 | | |

As a large number of towns have furnished a considerable excess, it is obvious that if the towns which are deficient should be called upon for the full number the State would furnish more than 2,117 men, the number required. The townships exceed stand—

|----------------------|
| Second District, 644 |

These excesses are to be distributed among the towns deficient, in proportion to the deficiencies, and then only a sufficient number will be drafted to fill the quota of the State. This plan will not work to the detriment of the towns which have furnished an excess, as their excess will be called upon for what they fail to furnish now, besides their additional proportion under a new call.

Taking the excesses given above, as the basis, it has been ascertained that thirty-eight per cent in the First District, and forty-two in the Second, deficiency, as given in the Adjutant General's statement, will leave a sufficient balance to fill the State quota. Any town can readily ascertain how many men will be required by subtracting thirty-eight or forty-two per cent in which it is located, from the number which it is now deficient.

Because the deficient towns obtained temporary relief from the patriotism of their neighbors, it will not be advisable for them to relax any effort to fill their entire quota, as another call, which is already foreseen, would place them upon their own resources, and they would then be required to atone for past neglect.

THE FLORIDA AFFAIR.

The Washington Republican adds the following statement to the explanations which have been given of the responsibility for the Florida expedition and its disastrous result. If the Copperheads can make anything out of it they are welcome to it:

We can positively state from official information that the recent campaign into Florida was initiated, guided and controlled by General Gilmore himself, upon consultation with certain naval officers, who joined the General in obtaining the President's consent to the expedition. General Gilmore will not hesitate to confirm this statement. The responsibility of the defeat at Olustee rests entirely upon the shoulders of the General, who commanded our forces at that battle. In the true sense of the word, the responsibility is with General Gilmore, who will not shrink from assuming it.

Much stress has been laid upon the fact that Mr. John Hay, Assistant Private Secretary of the President, was commissioned a Major and sent to Florida. That matter is easily explained. It was not until after the President gave his consent that General Gilmore, in co-operation with a naval force, should undertake the expedition, that the idea of sending Mr. Hay to report to General Gilmore was thought of. Mr. Hay, desiring more active life, made a personal application to the President to go with the expedition, and the latter consented, reporting to General Gilmore, who subsequently informed the President, officially, that he had ordered Major Hay to go to Florida to superintend certain civil and military duties under the Amnesty Proclamation.

LITTLE SIX and Medicine Bottle, the infamous Sioux Chiefs, are now in close confinement at Fort Abercrombie. Major Brown has also brought down to this post 290 Sioux from Little Crow's band—twenty-one men and the remainder women and children. They are the Indians that came to Major Hatch's camp during the winter.

A COLLISION occurred on the Nashville and Chattanooga road, at Anderson, last Saturday, by which five persons were killed, and among them George Thieriot of the Second Minnesota.

W. W. WATERS has been confirmed as Postmaster at St. Anthony.

THE ST. PAUL AND SUPERIOR RAILROAD LAND GRANT.

The following dispatch was received yesterday:

WASHINGTON, March 11. PARKER PAISE: Our Bill passed the Senate to-day.

WASHINGTON, March 11. W. P. MURRAY: "Our Bill" it may be necessary to amend it, but not the famous Bill who signs the above dispatch, but the Bill for a grant of lands to aid in the construction of the St. Paul and Superior Railroad.

It is very remarkable that the chief, and indeed the only effective opposition to the passage of this bill has had its source in St. Paul.

The same men who instigated the opposition to the passage of the bonus ordinance in aid of this road through the city council have since been secretly but industriously plying every agency at their command to defeat the bill in Congress. We refrain from mentioning any names, but as we understand that Hon. H. M. Rice is about to proceed to the city of Washington, we may take the opportunity to say that we trust that the efforts of the Hon. Ex-Senator may be used to circumvent the conspirators who are thus plotting against the interests of this city and this State, to promote the schemes of Wisconsin speculators. Talking of the opposition to the bill in the Senate it is a somewhat curious coincidence that the chief instrument through which the St. Paul opposition to this bill made itself felt was Senator Hendricks, of Missouri, a member of the Committee on Public Lands, to which the bill was referred, and who is largely interested in Bayfield. The opposition of the two Senators from Wisconsin was of course expected.

We anticipate the speedy passage of the measure through the House, where it will probably encounter less opposition than it met with in the Senate.

THE FOURTH REGIMENT AT LA CROSSE.

Adjutant General Malmros yesterday evening received the following dispatch:

LA CROSSE, March 12. To General Malmros: The Fourth Minnesota, 260 strong, is here. The Agent says he cannot send us on. What shall we do?

J. C. EDSON, Maj. Com'd.

The dispatch came at the same time with another from Chicago, announcing their arrival there, but owing to the line having been down, the notice was not received in time to make preparations for their transportation. Adjutant General Malmros at once replied as follows:

ST. PAUL, March 12. Major J. C. Edson: The Quartermaster Department promises to provide transportation at once.

OSCAR MALMROS, Adj. Gen.

SUPERIOR AND ST. PAUL.

The Lake Superior Gazette claims that, naturally, commercially and socially, Superior is a Minnesota town. Most all the trade of this place in cattle and produce is with Minnesota, all our eastern and southern mail facilities are through St. Paul, and it is to Minnesota and the country west that we must look all time long, as the country tributary to this point.

The Gazette further says that, should the trade of the Lake Superior region be once secured to this State upon its own road, there will be little encouragement for the stockholders of the Wisconsin road.

The Gazette will be gratified to learn from to-day's Press, that the favorite scheme of its editor, Mr. Thomas Clark, for a direct connection between St. Paul and Superior, a scheme which he and we have industriously advocated for years, is in a fair way and energy can accomplish it, and it will be accomplished.

LARGE UNION GAINS IN NEW YORK.

The New York Tribune sums up the result of the county and town elections in that State as far as heard from on the 7th inst:

We have complete returns from thirty counties of that State, showing 370 Union supporters elected to 201 Democrats. In Oneida, from which we have only partial returns, we are reported to have gained eight towns and in Sullivan four. As compared with last year our returns show a Union gain of 59 towns, and a loss of 63, making our net gain thus far 63. Incomplete returns from our counties show corresponding Union gains. Where are those "wonderful victories" in the Empire State over which the Copperheads were so largely crowing?

Rebel Accounts of Col. Dahlgren's Death and Burial.

His Body Stripped, Mutilated and Carried to Richmond.

"It was a Dog's Burial, Without Coffin, Winding Sheets or Service."

From the Richmond Examiner, March 7.

The publication of Dahlgren's program for the sack of Richmond was the cause of constant excitement Saturday, and curiosity to know towards the authorities would pursue towards the three or four hundred land put in at Libby. To Dahlgren's budget of villainy and cowardice there are to be added some incidents which show in the most striking colors, the character of this commander.

When the Yankees appeared at Fort-eck's Hall, they captured there Captain Dement, and this prisoner was taken to the company with Dahlgren over the whole of his route. Captain Dement reports that he witnessed the execution of the negro guide, and that Dahlgren furnished a rein from his own horse, with which the unhappy victim was hung.

Captain Dement effected his escape in the light near Walkerston. When Dahlgren found the small body of Confederates in his front, he insisted upon Captain Dement riding by his side, as he advanced to demand their surrender. The reply of one of the officers to the demand of surrender, "Give them hell, boys," Dahlgren fell at the first fire, and the horse of Captain Dement was shot under him, the rider fortunately escaping without injury. Dahlgren received two bullets in the head, two in the body and one in the hand. He died instantly.

Captain Dement escaped to a skirt of woods and bearing some of the Yankee fugitives expressing a desire to find him, and to surround him, came forward and received the defiance of almost the entire party. Dahlgren's body had been stripped naked and was lying on the road, that it was intended.

Both Captain Dement and Mr. Mount-castle describe Dahlgren as a most agreeable and charming villain. He was very civil to the prisoners, and very kind to the negroes, and on several occasions invited him to take a nip of whiskey with him. He was a fair haired, very young looking man, with manners as soft as a cat's.

Col. Dahlgren's Body.

From the Richmond Examiner, March 8.

Dahlgren's body was boxed up at Walkerston on Sunday and brought to Richmond, with the object, we understand, of its positive identification, and the establishment of the fact of the finding of the infamous documents upon it, all which has been attested by witnesses. Henceforth the name of Dahlgren is linked with eternal infamy, and in the years to come defenseless women and innocent children will perish, with a sense of shrinking horror, the story of Richmond's rescue from the midnight sack and ravage led by Dahlgren. It would seem something of the case he came to bestow upon others, who were to be the victims of his cruelty. Stripped, robbed of every valuable, the fingers cut off for the sake of the diamonds that encircled them, when the body was found by those sent to take charge of it, it was lying in a ditch, stark naked, with the exception of the stockings. Some humane persons had lifted the corpse from the ditch and thrown it over into the field, to save it from the dogs. The body was removed by Dahlgren's men, and is now at General Elzey's headquarters. It is of most beautiful design and finish.

The Negro Guide.

From the Richmond Examiner, March 8.

Dahlgren's guide, recommended to him "as the best man," as the very man wanted," John C. Balcocks, has reached the Libby, in company with two or three hundred brigades he attempted to guide into the heart of the city. His name is John A. Hogan, an Irishman by birth, twenty-three years old, tall and thin, with a fine open countenance. When asked his rank, he declared himself a full, high private, and did not aspire to anything else. Being interrogated as to his knowledge of Richmond and its suburbs, he said he knew it. "Like a hog," he was a guest at the Hotel de Libby July, 1863, and knew the officers of the prison. Then recognizing Mr. Ross, the clerk, Hogan broke out, "How do ye do, Lieutenant Ross? glad to see you." Hogan boasted of his narrow escape, having had four bullets put through his clothes and hair. In reply to a question as to what he was fighting for, he replied he was fighting for him. When such fun ends in a hanging rope, as we trust will, Hogan will cease to estimate his business as a joke.

Additional Particulars of the Capture of Dahlgren's Party.

From the Richmond Whig, March 8.

From information derived from reliable source, it appears that the credit of the capture of the "Dahlgren party" is mainly due to Capt. Wm. M. Magruder, and a squadron of Robin's battalion under his command, who have for some time past been posted in King and Queen county, as a corps of observation. Learning that the enemy was moving down the north bank of the Mataponi, by the river road, with the evident intention of reaching Gloucester Point, Capt. Magruder determined to anticipate him, and with this view left his camp with about one hundred of his command, Lieut. Pollard and seventeen men of the 9th Virginia cavalry—making for a point on the river between Mantua Ferry and King and Queen Court-house, which he succeeded in reaching in advance of the enemy.

Posting his command at an eligible point along the road in ambush, he had not long to wait before the enemy made its appearance, headed by Dahlgren himself, slowly and cautiously approaching as if apprehensive of their impending fate. As the head of the column neared the concealment, Dahlgren's attention was attracted by a slight rustling in the bushes, occasioned doubtless by the movement of some of our party. Drawing his pistol he called out, "Surrender, you d—d rebels, or I'll shoot you." "I am instant parole," he sprang into the road, and, leveling his piece, shot the miserable den.

A general volley was then poured into the ranks, which had the effect of emptying their saddles and killing many horses and throwing the rest into inextricable confusion. Then ensued a scene of the wildest panic, which was heightened by the intense darkness of the night. Each man looking to his own personal safety, all sought refuge in flight, and spurring their jaded horses over the bodies of their wounded and pell-mell over a ditch and waiting fence, which the most adventurous fox-hunter would hardly have essayed in the heat of the chase, into a small field. Capt. M. the chase, into a small field. Capt. M. the chase, into a small field. Capt. M. the chase, into a small field.

Much praise is due to Capt. Magruder for his coolness and judgment in the affair. If he had ordered a charge upon the discomfited enemy in the road, the probability is that some of our own men would have fallen by the hands of their comrades in an indiscriminate fight in the dark, while the opportunity of escape would have been increased. As it was, the prudent course adopted secured most effectively the result desired without a single casualty on our side, and to surround him, came forward and received the defiance of almost the entire party. Dahlgren's body had been stripped naked and was lying on the road, that it was intended.

Revelations Demanded.

The Examiner comments upon these bogus documents which they pretend to have found upon the body of Col. Dahlgren, with more ferocity than the Sentinel from which we quoted yesterday. It says:

"Our government owes it to its own army and to its own people, if it cannot at the moment retort such atrocious lies in kind, at least to bring to the public gaze the rogues who, in the guise of soldiers, the robbers who, in the guise of soldiers, have been caught lurking about Richmond with their oaken balls and turpentine, and their written programme for murdering the chief magistrate and setting fire to all the houses in the city, a list of a hundred places at once, and then inviting eight thousand bloodthirsty, useful ruffians to get the blazing mansions, rape their mistresses, and blow the masters in the head as the dreadful confusion."

But if we hang these wretches then the enemy will select an equal number for the gallows? Not while we hold states that have been taken from us. But we will hang the rogues who, in the guise of soldiers, have been caught lurking about Richmond with their oaken balls and turpentine, and their written programme for murdering the chief magistrate and setting fire to all the houses in the city, a list of a hundred places at once, and then inviting eight thousand bloodthirsty, useful ruffians to get the blazing mansions, rape their mistresses, and blow the masters in the head as the dreadful confusion."

Anecdote of Gen. Hooker.

The Washington correspondent of the Chicago Journal writes:

An anecdote of Gen. Hooker has come to my knowledge, which I have never seen in print. At the battle of Gettysburg, he was in command of the army of the Potomac, he summoned to headquarters all the principal cavalry officers in his command, twenty-five or thirty in number. Arranged in a semicircle facing him, he addressed them after this manner, very coolly and with low voice at first, but warming as he proceeded: "GENTLEMEN: have you come here together to consult with me in regard to the cavalry arm of the service. I think it should be, and may be, made more efficient. It seems to me to be at present a very costly show—very expensive and very useless. Why, gentlemen, (moving up and taking a step forward,) 'I'll be d—d if I have ever seen or have heard of a dead cavalry man.'"

From that speech dates the efficiency of the Federal cavalry.

The Root River or Southern Minnesota Railroad.

The City Council of La Crosse resolved last evening to procure from the Legislature, authority to subscribe and pay for stock in the Root River or Southern Minnesota Railroad, of the amount of one hundred thousand dollars more can be easily raised between La Crosse and Rochester.

The road for nearly twenty-five miles, is nearly graded and bridged, so that only about three hundred dollars per mile will have to be expended in order to prepare the line for the rails. The present cash value of the work performed on the line, is not far from a quarter of a million dollars. The work already done, and the available subscriptions will amount to over four hundred thousand dollars. This supply ample basis for the purchase of bonds, with which to purchase the iron and rolling stock for a considerable distance into the most productive and populous portion of Minnesota.—La Crosse Republican, 12th.

A Good Joke.

Some of the Minnesota soldiers returning from their home frolics to the war, became a little too free with beer at the City Marshal, by order of the Mayor, succeeded in closing nearly all the saloons to prevent disorder and mischief. At the saloon of a witty German on Front street, Mr. Fischer, the boys were arrested in their jolly frolic by a good of "mother wit," which is too good to keep. Mr. Fischer quipped remarked, "Sbenthen—your iush very veltum to drink mine beer, but if you please, do not disturb mine family, ash mine little shish iushy sick mit de small pox." In less than time a flea could make three ships and a hop, the saloon was cleared, and Mr. Fischer was in the bosom of his family.—La Crosse Rep.

For the St. Paul Press.

LIVES.

In memory of Geo. H. Fay, of the Second Minnesota, who fell in the battle of Chickasaw. Sleep, soldier, sleep! thy life-work is ended! Flushed is the battle-cry, silent the drum! Morn with the even tide suddenly blended—Finished thy labor when scarcely begun.

Quietly rest! no peep can linger Round the low home where the bold warrior lies, Would flower will deck it, and lo! breezes hie, Rejoice as with the broken heart sighs.

Pacely sleep! no stone tells thy story, Marking the tomb of the noble and brave; Yet moonbeams will fall like a halo of glory, And Heaven weep its dew on the patriot's grave.

"Nobly he fought!" So his comrade has told me; "Fought like a hero and fell at his post!" Died for the banner whose bright hues enfold thee—

This was the glory, and life was the cost. Sweetly repose! a void sad and aching Dwells in the hearts that were praying for thee; But while life lingers, thy image unfolding, Green on our tablets thy memory will be.

Address to the People of Minnesota.

For Contributions in aid of the Mississippi Valley Sanitary Fair, to be held in St. Louis, beginning May 17, 1864.

The undersigned, a committee appointed at a meeting of Minnesotians in St. Louis, February 27, 1864, to prepare an address to the people of Minnesota in behalf of aid to the Mississippi Valley Sanitary Fair, appeal to the generous patriotism of the people of our beloved State to signalize anew their devotion to the great cause for which our noble army is struggling, and their care for the welfare of the sick and wounded of the army, by a general and united effort to aid the Great Fair to be held in St. Louis, to provide funds for Western Sanitary Commission. We believe that the people of Minnesota may by co-operation and aid, do more for her own soldiers in the army than by any direct effort. The agents of the Western Sanitary Commission are present with every Western army, seek out the sick and suffering soldiers in every hospital and follow quickly to every battle-field to minister to the wants and alleviate the suffering soldiers from Minnesota in common with the brave men of other States. Their agencies are more universal and more certain to find and supply the wants of the needy than could possibly be the unavailingly irregular direct efforts of our own people. It is but just, that our State should contribute to the fund of the Commission that has done in the past, and will do in the future, so much for Minnesota soldiers.

We cannot better state the object of the Fair than in the words of the circular issued by the Executive Committee:

"The Fair will be held in the city of St. Louis, Missouri, on Tuesday, the 17th day of May next, to continue two or more weeks, for the purpose of raising a fund for the sanitary use of the army in the Mississippi Valley, and for the relief of their sick and wounded, under the general direction of the Western Sanitary Commission, whose headquarters are at St. Louis. This commission acts by direct authority from the Secretary of War, and enjoys all the rights and privileges which can properly be extended to such an organization. The United States Commission and its branches, with the Christian Commission, and with all local organizations, seeking in all cases, without any compromise, to raise a fund for the relief of all for all to do. Its average range of duty since the rebellion began has included at least a 'strength' of one hundred and fifty thousand men in actual service, and it has aided in the care of the sick in every battle field of the West. In this work its average expenditures have been for over two years, in value, $50,000 per month; and the total cost of distribution, including every outlay, has been less than one and a half per cent. The present effort is to replenish its treasury, and it has aided in the care of the sick in every battle field of the West. The Clara Hine Running.

The Fourth Regiment on P. M.

The Clara Hine left Winona at 5 P. M. yesterday for Reeds Lake. She has the Fourth Regiment on board, besides the regular passengers and mails. Regular trips will now be made by the boats and stages will go no farther than the foot of the lake.

At Hastings a channel has been cut away sufficient to allow the ferry at that point to run as usual.

A Horse Stained.

Our young and most learned friend, Charles, we suppose, sent a communication to the Pioneer headed a mistake, in which he is trying to convince the people of St. Paul, that Mr. Reed but Mr. A. H. Kiefer bought the interest of Mr. Kiefer in the St. Paul and Northern Pacific Railroad.

Smashing Things.

A party of soldiers proposed to have a good time in smashing things in Hatch's saloon on Third street yesterday afternoon. They broke up a few tumblers, when a couple of officers (not "reformed" ones however) interfered and arrested one of the belligerents. The matter was afterwards compromised.

PERSONAL.—Capt. L. Ober of Co. A, Second Minnesota Regiment leaves this morning for Chattanooga, to join his regiment.

THERE will be a special communication of Ancient Landmark Lodge No. 5 of P. M. and A. M. this Thursday evening.

By order of W. M. C. Secretary.

LOCAL NOTICES.

A CARD.—I wish to say to my friends and the public generally that on and after this date, I shall retire from general practice, my office business being so large as to occupy all my time. I will be found at my office as usual.
